MEXICO—MAXIMILIAN.

The interest of the news from Mexico now all centres in the Emperor Maximilian.—There is no longer any hope of the Empire; that is lost past all redemption. Neither is there any expectation that the Republic will be established. The people of Mexico are too demoralized to build up, by themselves, and sustain any Government. No one thinks any such thing possible, or troubles himself about it. The great aim of all the Liberal forces now is to capture "the Austrian." Special corps of cavalry have been organized with this object. That is the object of the siege of Queretaro; they have the Emperor shut up therein, and all their energies are bent to force him to surrender at discretion.

Maximilian chose a very unwise part when he declined to go out with the French. His dream of an empire in Mexico must have been by that time dispelled, and only personal considerations could have influenced him. But a much more foolish thing was to leave the capital and risk himself in the interior. From the City of Mexico he could have found his way down to Vera Cruz, whatever might have been the turn of events At Queretaro he is completely shut up and watched by all the forces the Liberals can command. He has already made an attempt to break the line that surrounds him and failed It by any chance he should escape, alone or with an escort, he would have five thousand horsemen after him, and all know how fast Mexicans can ride. He cannot escape in disguise through that wide tract of country stretching off seven hundred miles to any frontier. He is not built nor marked like any Mexican. His Austrian stature, complexion, hair, and manner would all betray him. His effigy is on the money coined during his reign, and the people are everywhere on the look out for the original.

Unless Maximilian fights a successful engagement, he will surely be captured. And how is it possible for him to fight one? He has now been closely besieged for a considerable time, and his force must daily be growing less and less efficient. He has no resources to draw upon, and a final surrender now appears to be inevitable. But if captured, what will they do with him? The general opinion is that they will hang him. This is the opinion of many prominent Mexicans, with whom we have conversed. The Liberals themselves have given it out, and, judging from their own language, they are blood-thirsty enough to do it. Hatred of the Austrian, as he is called, runs high enough to make us expect anything. And yet we cannot believe that even the Mexicans can be guilty of so great a crime. Maximilian is one of the first gentlemen of the age. He was invited to Mexico by a large portion of the people, and went there only in the belief that he could restore order in the country. When the French left, a large portion of the people besought him to remain, and not leave them in anarchy. He consented, very foolishly, it is true, but nevertheless with a laudable hope that he could be the instrumentality of accomplishing some good. It captured and hung, the deed will reflect eternal disgrace upon the Mexican people.

The Picayune, in another article, gives more minute details in regard to the siege of Queretaro, as follows:

Maximilian and the Imperial forces are shut up in Queretaro, and closely besieged. An attempted sally had been made, but failed. The aqueduct that supplied the city with water and the roads that supplied it with provisions were all cut off and commanded by the Liberals. Queretaro is a city of some 50,000 inhabitants, and cannot long sustain such a siege.

The people and Imperial army are closely confined within its municipal limits, the grand guard having been some time ago withdrawn on account of the frequent desertions, and there is, therefore, no chance to forage even in the immediate neighborhood. The orders of Juarez are not to assault the place, but to reduce it by starvation and thirst, and compel the Imperialists to surrender at discretion. The Liberals are confident of success, and so far as the news goes, they have reason to expect it. Reinforcements are said to have gone from the City of Mexico to the relief of the besieged, but they cannot be very formidable.

The only chance of Maximilian's escape, if this news be true, is to evade the enemy. But even this may not be possible. It is well known that a special corps of cavalry has been organized, with the object of capturing "the Austrian." He is, therefore, personally watched, and any attempt to escape will very likely be foiled. In any case there is a wide track of country between Queretaro and the frontier, all occupied by his enemies on the lookout for him. To traverse it with only a small escort would be very unsafe, and to get out of Queretaro with a large force is manifestly impossible without fighting a successful engagement.

OUR AROTIC POSSESSIONS.

Mr. Seward's dinner-table diplomacy has triumphed. The Russian treaty has been confirmed, and given to the world. Our possessions now literally extend from the Gulf of Mexico to the Polar Sea, including all the varieties of climate from the tropics to the Arctic Circle.

From the first, the treaty stood no chance of rejection. It made no difference whether the region to be acquired was rich in mines of coal and metals, or a perpetual and accumulating iceberg. Its acceptance was fore-ordained, and Mr. Seward, so far as practical results are concerned, might as well have saved his viands. The most that could have been hoped for by its opponents was that the ratification might be delayed. This a majority of the Senate would, no doubt, have been glad to secure, that they might have time to consult their constituents; but this Mr. Seward circumvented by making the early acceptance of the treaty a necessary condition, in order to prevent the country from reverting to Russia again.—We have never yet withstood an appeal to our cupidity for the direct acquisition of territory, and there was no reason to anticipate a different result in this case. The history of annexation projects in Louisiana, Texas, California, the Mesilla Valley, have all been the same. We have invariably succumbed to temptation, and a few years later we have wondered (except with reference to Texas and the Mesilla Valley) how we should ever have got along without the acquisition. Whether the result will be the same with reference to our Arctic possessions time will determine.

We are every year growing more cosmopolitan. A few years ago we gathered, under the "ægis of American institutions," several thousand degenerate Castilians and representatives of the mixed races in California and New Mexico. A few years hence we shall probably see the Speaker of the House of Representatives recognizing some gentleman, dressed in a grizzly bear-skin overcoat and seal-skin unmentionables, and rejoicing in an unpronounceable Russian patronymic, as the "gentleman from the Territory of Alaska," or "Sitka," or "Kwickpack," as he rises to represent the interests of his constituents with reference to the fisheries on the islands of Ignaslook or Noonarbook, or the copper mines on the island Kormanddorski, or to protest against sportsmen on summer excursions from New York, Chicago, or San Francisco engaging in hunting polar bears and seals around Icy Cape, or attempting to inclose the North Sea, by way of speculation, as a grand summer skating park, thus threatening his Esquimaux constituents with starvation in consequence of depriving them of their accustomed supply of seals' flesh and whales' "blubber." We shall obtain new ideas, however, of the greatness of this "Universal Yankee Nation," as we contemplate the fact that we have completely flanked England on the Northwest, and that if we cannot, like her, boast that "the sun never sets" on our dominion, we can at least boast that there is one portion of it upon which that luminary does not rise for six months in the year. Possibly, however, this new acquisition will only be the means of developing new wants. Point Barrow will make a delightful summer resort, as it is the most northerly point, and looks directly toward the North Pole, while the supplies of ice for the Chinese, East India, Mexican, and South American markets from the rivers and lakes in the interior will be illimitable. But we shall soon feel the need of some territory in the southern hemisphere, to counterbalance the English possessions in New Zealand, and give us a more complete monopoly of the ice trade than we now possess.—Chicago Times.

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 16, 1867.

"HOLDEN AND GO IN, AND WORTH AND STAY OUT."

Our readers remember that the Holdenites rung the changes on the above clap-trap during the contest between Mr. Holden and Gov. Worth, eighteen months ago.—Strange as it may appear to sensible men, it had its influence upon many ignorant, timid minds. The idea that Mr. Holden's election would be gratifying to President Johnson, and would lead the Northern people to believe that we were au fait, led, perhaps, thousands of persons to vote for Mr. Holden who would have greatly preferred Gov. Worth. To this sole cause may be attributed the bulk of the vote he obtained. Running upon his own personal merits and claims, he could not have obtained more than one half the vote he did.

Our readers will remember how we denounced this idea at the time, and how fully subsequent facts have shown the correctness of our position. To suppose, for a moment, that President Johnson and the Northern people were so ignorant of Mr. Holden's character, or so imbecile as to suspend the restoration of a great State to the confidence of the Union upon the simple election to office of one man, and he, at one time, the foremost among "Southern rebels," was an idea so purely ridiculous that we could not for a moment entertain it. It is now certain that the indications of President Johnson's displeasure at our elections had little to do with Mr. Holden's defeat, but arose from the fact that he feared that the failure of the State to elect members to Congress, who could take the oath, would bar their admission.

But subsequent facts show that not only were the people of North Carolina deceived who voted for Mr. Holden, but that the President himself was totally deceived in his views. President Johnson did not attempt to reconstruct Tennessee. She had already been reconstructed upon the Radical platform under Mr. Lincoln. She had elected a loyal Governor and loyal Legislature, in accord with the President's views and those of the dominant party. She even elected Senators and Representatives to Congress who could all take the test-oath, and yet, Congress refused to admit them under the President's policy. Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida and South Carolina all elected Governors in accordance with the President's views,—all men of his choice or approval,—were they admitted? Suppose North Carolina had elected Mr. Holden, and every member of Congress who could take the test oath, would she have been admitted? None but an arrant blockhead could believe it. And yet, there are men, and some editors, in the State, blind enough, or dolts enough, still to reiterate that if Mr. Holden had been elected, it would have been better for us. Judge Sharkey was far more acceptable to the Congress at that time, and to the President, than Mr. Holden was; did he help the case with Mississippi? Brownlow was far more acceptable to the Congress, and yet he could not engineer his test-oath men in, with the President to help him. Never, until by the adoption of the Howard amendment, and with the assurance that she would adopt negro suffrage, was Tennessee admitted.

Now, there are people and presses foolish enough to believe, that in order to the certain admission of North Carolina into Congress and the Union, the State must reconstruct under the leadership of Mr. Holden. Such a supposition is a reflection upon the Congress. The Congress by this time have found out the Holdens, and the Hamiltons, and the Hunnicutts. What proof is there that Mr. Holden enjoys the confidence of the Congress? It had a fair chance to show it, when he was nominated for San Salvador. The Senate hooted at the idea of appointing him. When the Congress came to fix its terms of reconstruction, did it show any special confidence in Mr. Holden, Gen. Dockery, Mr. Settle, Mr. Dick, Mr. Pool, and others of like ilk? It was a very easy matter to have exempted that class of men from disfranchisement in the adoption of the Howard amendment. Did the Congress do it? When Mr. Sherman drew his bill and the Congress acted upon it, and also Mr. Wilson's bill, did the Congress show any special confidence in that class of men? It was easy to have had a proviso exempting them from disfranchisement, but was it done? Certainly not. So far as Congress has spoken, it declares that W. W. Holden, Alfred Dockery, R. P. Dick, John Pool, Thomas Settle, and men of that stamp, are not the men it wishes to reconstruct the States. Pray, what influence can the putting such men forward in this matter have, but a bad one?

The Congress declares that only the blacks who have attained the right age and a certain class of whites shall vote or hold office in the reconstruction of the State.—It is the law, and those who are permitted to reconstruct must fulfil every jot and tittle of the law in order to reconstruction. Congress requires that only such and such shall vote or hold office; that the State Convention called shall incorporate in the organic law of the State the principles of the Sherman-Shellabarger bill—that all distinctions as to color in civil and political rights shall be discarded, and that every man shall be placed on an equal footing in his civil and political franchises. Further, it requires that the succeeding Legislature shall adopt the Howard Amendment, and that the several Districts shall elect Representatives, and the Legislature, Senators, who can take the test-oath. These are the conditions and these only are required by the Congress.

What nonsense, then, is it to prate about the necessity of following the lead of such old party hacks and demagogues as W. W. Holden, Alfred Dockery, John Pool, R. P. Dick, Thomas Settle and others? If Congress meant that they should lead in this work, it would have said so. But, so far from it, it left them out in the cold with other "rebels," and many better men. Let the people scout this clap-trap. It fooled many before, and will fool them again, if they trust to such men.

IMPORTANT ORDER BY GENERAL SICKLES.

We publish, in another column, a highly important order from General Sickles, issued at Charleston, on the 11th inst. Its general features may be thus summed up:

The General Order sets forth that the wide-spread destitution prevailing among the population of the District renders necessary for their relief the adoption of extraordinary measures. It therefore directs that no person shall be imprisoned for debt except upon conviction of fraud; that judgment or decrees for the payment of money on causes of action arising between December 19, 1860, and May 15, 1865, shall not be enforced by execution against the property or the person of the defendant; that sheriffs, coroners and constables shall suspend for twelve months sales of property on liabilities contracted prior to December 19, 1860; that all proceedings for the recovery of money for the purchase of negroes are suspended; that in sales of property by execution or order of court there shall be reserved to defendants having families depending upon them a homestead, and implements of husbandry, household goods &c, to the value of $500, and that the property of absent debtors shall shlnot be taken under the foreignattachment process. The order also prohibits the practice of carrying deadly weapons, except by officers and soldiers, and makes an offender amenable to trial and punishment by military commission. The punishment of death in certain cases of burglary and larceny is abolished, and authority is given the Governors of North and South Carolina to reprieve or pardon persons convicted and sentenced by civil courts, and to remit fines and penalties.

"Do the Guardian and Democrat approve of confiscation, further disfranchisement and Brownlowism? If so, let them say so." Raleigh Sentinel.

We would be justified in replying to such an untruthful insinuation as the above in what might be considered harsh language, but we are disposed to forbear as long as possible, and reason with those who are still (it may be unintentionally) obstructing reconstruction. The Sentinel knows very well that we have been doing all we could to prevent confiscation.—Western Democrat.

Keep cool, neighbor. It will be time enough to employ "harsh" language, when any is applied to yourself, which it is far from our desire or purpose to do. We are surprised that our cotemporary should suppose that we designed to insinuate that it was favorable to confiscation, &c. Nothing was further from our intention. We have always believed that Mr. Yates was a gentleman of conservative inclinations, but we think that he has committed a great error of judgment in affiliating with the destructives in this State.

It is true that the late Holdenite meeting in this City was silent on the subject of confiscation, but we called the attention of the Democrat to the fact that, in nearly all the primary meetings that led to it, or which have been held in ratification of its proceedings, the Congress was especially urged to pass Mr. Stevens' confiscation scheme. We directed its notice to the circumstance that the Standard had expressly taken ground in favor of confiscation. And we simply, therefore, suggested to our cotemporary that his political affiliation with these men would lead the public to think that there was a congeniality of sentiment on this point, unless he rebuked the spirit which has been exhibited in those primary meetings and which the Standard has displayed.

We beg to call the attention of the Democrat to another fact: Have we not, over and over again, declared that if the so-called Southern Loyalists, who assume to be the persons peculiarly fitted to engage in the work of reconstruction, would pledge themselves, in a positive and authoritative manner, that they contemplate nothing beyond the strict letter of the Reconstruction Act, that we will cease all opposition to them? And we repeat the declaration.

CONSOLIDATION.—The consolidation of the Rail Roads in Virginia leading from Tennessee to Norfolk, has been effected so far as the vote of the Virginia, Senate is concerned. It now goes to the House. We have seldom witnessed a more determined fight than has been carried on for months by the friends and opponents of this measure.

THE LEGISLATURE.—This body adjourned to meet again on the third Monday in August next. We thought, at the time, that the signs of the times then indicated that the arrangement would hardly be carried into effect. The impression prevails that Gen. Sickles will deem it totally unnecessary, and if members of the Legislature will carefully read Gen. Sickles' last order, they will come to the same conclusion.

HUNNICUTT IN TROUBLE.—The numerous admirers of this preposterous sucker-in of unsophisticated colored people will be pained to learn that a rumor gained currency and credit here last evening, to the effect that the said Hunnicutt had been estopped in his career of incendiarism by Gen. Schofield, by arrest, and that Gen. Schofield had also ordered that no convention—such as was contemplated by whites and blacks—shall be held, but that when he thinks the proper time has arrived, he will call one. If this report be true, and it is not at all unlikely, it is evident that Gen. Schofield is determined that the reconstruction of Virginia shall be accomplished by proper agencies and in an orderly manner, and that no Hunnicutt incendiaries shall have anything to do with it.—Petersburg Express, 16th.

IMPORTANT ORDER BY GENERAL SICKLES.

HEADQ'RS, SECOND MILITARY DIST., Charleston, S. C., April 11, 1867.

The general destitution prevailing among the population of this military district cannot be relieved without affording means for the development of their industrial resources. The nature and extent of the destitution demand extraordinary measures. The people are borne down by a heavy burden of debt; the crops of grain and garden produce failed last year; many families have been deprived of shelter, many more need food and clothing; needful implements and auxiliaries of husbandry are very scarce; the laboring population in numerous localities are threatened with starvation unless supplied with food by the government of the United States; the inability of a large portion of the people to pay taxes leaves the local authorities without adequate means of relief, and the gravity of the situation is increased by the general disposition shown by creditors to enforce upon an impoverished people the immediate collection of all claims. To suffer all this to go on without restraint or remedy is to sacrifice the general good. The rights of creditors shall be respected, but the appeal of want and suffering must be heeded. Moved by these considerations, the following regulations are announced, and they will continue in force, with such modification as the occasion may require, until the civil government of the respective States shall be established in accordance with the requirements of the government of the United States. The Commanding General earnestly desires and confidently believes that the observance of these regulations, and the co operation of all persons concerned in employing fairly and justly the advantages still remaining to them, will mitigate the distress now existing, and that the avenues of industry, enterprize and organization thus opened will contribute to the permanent welfare and future happiness of the people:—

First—Imprisonment for debt is prohibited, unless the defendant in execution shall be convicted of a fraudulent concealment or disposition of his property with intent to hinder, delay and prevent the creditor in the recovery of his debt or demand; and the proceedings now established in North and South Carolina respectively for the trial and determining of such questions may be adopted.

Second—Judgment or decrees for the payment of money on causes of action arising between the 19th of December, 1860, and the 15th of May, 1865, shall not be enforced by execution against the property or the person of the defendant. Proceedings in such causes of action now pending shall be stayed; and no suit or process shall be hereafter instituted or commenced for any such causes of action

Third—Sheriffs, coroners and constables are hereby directed to suspend for twelve calendar months the sale of all property upon execution or process on liabilities contracted prior to the 19th of December, 1860, unless upon the written consent of the defendants, except in cases where the plaintiff, or in his absence his agent or attorney, shall upon oath, with corroborative testimony, allege and prove that the defendant is moving or intends fraudulently to remove his property beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the court. The sale of real or personal property by foreclosure of mortgage is likewise suspended for twelve calendar months, except in cases where the payment of interest money accruing since the 15th day of May, 1865, shall not have been made before the day of sale.

Fourth—Judgments or decrees entered or enrolled on causes of action arising subsequent to the 15th of May, 1865, may be enforced by execution against the property of the defendant, and in the application of the money arising under such executions regard shall be had to the priority of liens, unless in cases where the good faith of any lien shall be drawn in question. In such cases, the usual mode of proceeding adopted in North and South Carolina respectively to determine that question shall be adopted.

Fifth—All proceedings for the recovery of money under contracts, whether under seal or by parole, the consideration for which was the purchase of negroes, are suspended. Judgments or decrees entered or enrolled for such causes of action shall not be enforced.

Sixth—All advances of moneys, subsistence, implements and fertilizers loaned, used, employed or required for the purpose of aiding the agricultural pursuits of the people shall be protected, and the existing laws which have provided the most efficient remedies in such cases for the lender will be supported and enforced. Wages for labor performed in the production of the crops shall be a lien on the crop, and payment of the amount due for such wages shall be enforced by the like remedies provided to secure advances of money and other means for the cultivation of the soil.

Seventh—In all sales of property and execution or by order of any court, there shall be reserved out of the property of any defendant who has a family dependent upon his or her labor, a dwelling house and appurtenances and twenty acres of land for the use and occupation of the family of the defendant, and necessary articles of furniture, apparel, subsistence, implements of trade, husbandry or other employment of the value of $500. The homestead exemption shall enure only to the benefit of families—that is to say, parent or parents and child or children—in other cases the exemption shall extend only to clothing, implements of trade or other employment usually followed by the defendant, of the value of $100. The exempted property of the defendant shall be ascertained by the Sheriff or other officer enforcing the execution, who shall specifically describe the same and make a report thereof in each case to the Court.

Eighth—The currency of the United States declared by the Congress of the United States to be a legal tender in the payment of all debts, dues and demands, shall be so recognized in North and South Carolina, and all cases in which the same shall be tendered in payment and refused by any public officer will be at once reported to these headquarters, or to the commanding officer of the post within which such officer resides.

Ninth—Property of an absent debtor or one charged as such without fraud, whether consisting of money advanced for the purposes of agriculture or appliances for the cultivation of the soil, shall not be taken under the process known as foreign attachment; but the lien created by any existing law shall not be disturbed, nor shall the possession or the use of the same be in any wise interfered with except in the execution of a judgment or final decree in cases where they are authorized to be enforced.

Tenth—In suits to recover ordinary debts known as actions ex contractu, bail, as heretofore authorized, shall not be demanded by the suitor nor taken by the sheriff or other officer serving the process; in suits for trespass, libel, wrongful conversion of property and other cases, known as actions ex delicto, bail, as heretofore authorized, may be demanded and taken. The prohibition of bail in cases ex contractu shall not extend to parties about to leave the State; but the fact of intention must be clearly established by proof.

Eleventh—In criminal proceedings the usual recognizances shall be required and taken by the proper civil officers heretofore authorized by law to take the same, provided that upon complaint being made to any magistrate or other person authorized by law to issue a warrant for breach of the peace or any criminal offence, it shall be the duty of such magistrate or officer to issue his warrant or the recognizance of the complainant to prosecute without requiring him to give security on such recognizance.

Twelfth—The practice of carrying deadly weapons, except by officers and soldiers in the military service of the United States, is prohibited. The concealment of such weapons on the person will be deemed an aggravation of the offence. A violation of this order will render the offender amenable to trial and punishment by military commission. Whenever wounding or killing shall result from the use of such weapons, proof of the party carrying or concealing a deadly weapon shall be deemed evidence of a felonious attempt to take the life of the injured person.

Thirteenth—The order heretofore issued in this military department prohibiting the punishment of crimes and offences by whipping, maiming, branding, stocks, pillory or other corporal punishment, is in force and will be obeyed by all persons.

Fourteenth—The punishment of death in certain cases of burglary and larceny imposed by the existing laws of the provisional governments in this military district is abolished. Any person convicted of burglary or of larceny, when the property stolen is of the value of $25, of assault and battery with intent to kill, or of any assault with a deadly weapon, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term not exceeding ten years nor less than two years, in the discretion of the court having jurisdiction thereof. Larceny, when the value thereof is less than $25, shall be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term not exceeding one year in the discretion of the court.

Fifteenth—The Governors of North and South Carolina shall have authority within their jurisdiction respectively to reprieve or pardon any person convicted and sentenced by a civil court and to remit fines and penalties.

Sixteenth—Nothing in this order shall be construed to restrain or prevent the operation of proceedings in bankruptcy in accordance with the acts of Congress in such cases made and provided for, with the collection of any tax, impost, excise or charge levied by authority of the United States or of the provisional governments of North and South Carolina; but no imprisonment for over due taxes shall be allowed, nor shall this order or any law of the provisional governments of North and South Carolina operate to deny to minor children coming of age, or their legal representatives, nor to suspend as to them, any right of action, remedy or proceeding against executors, administrators, trustees, guardians, masters or clerks of equity courts, or other officers or persons holding a fiduciary relation to the parties or the subject matter of the action or proceeding.

Seventeenth—Any law or ordinance heretofore in force in North or South Carolina inconsistent with the provisions of this General Order is hereby suspended and declared inoperative.

By command of Major General D. E. SICKLES.
J. W. CLOUS, Captain Thirty-Eigth United States Infantry, A. D. C. and A. A. A. G.

THE PERUVIAN.—This magnificent iron steamer is now loading for Liverpool at the wharf of Messrs. Wm. D. Reynolds & Bro., and will be ready to leave this port towards the end of the week.

We learn that some 1600 bales of cotton, naval stores, grain, &c., will be shipped by the agents, Messrs. W. D. Reynolds & Bro.

The Peruvian is commanded by Captain Sir Joseph Glover, who first introduced the ship to this harbor—but, while we are delighted to hear that he will take the ship to Liverpool, it is a matter of regret that we are so soon to sever our acquaintance with one whose first arrival at Norfolk led us to believe that his experience might urge others to make this their port.

We learn that after the return of the Peruvian to England, Sir Joseph Glover will assume command of one of the celebrated Cunard line, running between Liverpool and New York, which is a high compliment to the abilities of Capt. Glover.—Norfolk Journal.

REGISTRATION IN VIRGINIA.—We have the authority of a distinguished officer of the army, stationed in this District, for saying that the plan of registering the State has been matured and determined.

General Schofield will appoint for each county in the State a board of three commissioners, one of whom will be an officer of the army if possible; the other two civilians; and on recommendation of this board he will appoint a register for each magisterial district. This register will be simply a clerk, whose duty it will be to record in a book, made for the purpose, the names of such persons in the district as are entitled to vote. This question is to be settled by the oath of the party applying to register, unless there be a challenge from some third party, or a doubt in the applicant's own mind, in which case the Commissioners must determine the question. It will, of course, be necessary, therefore, for the Commissioners to make a circuit of the county, going from one district to another until all qualified citizens have the opportunity to register. And they will be authorized to remain in each district long enough to make this opportunity ample.

We bespeak for such officers of the army as are detailed for this duty, and whose demeanor entitles them to the epithet of "gentlemen," a friendly consideration at the hands of the people. They will be engaged in a duty which they have not sought, and in the enforcement of a law for which they are in no sense responsible.

We are, of course, aware that no obstruction will be placed in the way of their office, but something more than this mere negative treatment will be necessary to enable them wisely and efficiently to fulfil their mission. They will have to seek advice, to take counsel and receive suggestions, and we trust that in this they may be frankly and fairly met.—Richmond Examiner, April 12.

So far, in North and South Carolina, the military authorities have acted with much prudence and fairness, and seem disposed to discharge their duties so as to gain the respect and confidence of the people. The commander at this Post, Capt. Lazelle, is a gentleman in every sense of the word, and we think we can speak for all our citizens and say that he has their esteem and confidence. We hope it may be the pleasure of Gen. Sickles to allow Capt. Lazelle to remain at Charlotte.—Charlotte Democrat.

It is reported in Canada that a force of United States troops had arrived at Rouse's Point. The impression prevailed that a Fenian raid would be made before a month.

"I'm afraid you'll come to want," said an old lady to a young gentleman. "I have come to want already," was the reply: "I want your daughter."

A little boy at Sunday school being asked, "What was the chief end of man?" replied, "The end what's got the head on."

THE SENTINEL.

TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 16, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

To Advertisers.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

New Advertisements.—Messrs. Pulliam, Jones & Co., Wholesale Grocers and Auction and Commission Merchants, Fayetteville Street, will have a great Catalogue Sale, on the 1st of May. This promises to be one of the most extensive and attractive sales ever held in this City, and will doubtless, as it should, attract numerous buyers from a distance. We invite attention to the advertisement.

M. Rosenbaum announces new and elegant goods daily arriving.

J. Brown, (with Hart & Lewis) advertises new Cutlery, table and pocket. Also Guano Droppers, made and on hand.

Our Market.—This venerable institution is now badly supplied with necessary articles of consumption. We observe that many return from market with empty baskets and long faces.

Mayor's Court.—Nancy Jones, colored. Lodged in the Guard House for riotous and disorderly conduct on the Street.

Tony Devereux, colored. For stealing wood from H. Mordecai. Returned to the County Court to answer the charge.

Simpson's Soda Water Fountain is in full play, and that sparkling and refreshing beverage may be obtained there in all its perfection. He established a reputation in this line last summer, which he is determined to keep up.

New Goods.—The supplies of new goods in the city are quite large. Our merchants have displayed great taste in their selections. We have seldom seen more beautiful styles of dress goods.

Are You Insured?—Things look so squally, during a fellow's life time, that we know no better advice to give, than, first, to get ready to die, and, secondly, go to see the Life Insurance man and insure your life for a big pile.

His Excellency, Gov. Worth, returned to this City, last evening.

Religious.—The religious interest continues in the Presbyterian Church. The Pastor has been assisted by Rev. Mr. Smith, of Greensboro', and Rev. Mr. Hill and Rev. Mr. Hines, of Granville.

Old Guion Hotel Property.—We learn that it is the purpose of the owners of this property to refit and rebuild it, in the best style, at an early day.

Removal.—We learn that Mr. Pescud is fitting up the store, on the opposite side of Fayetteville Street, recently occupied by Mr. J. Rosenbaum, where he intends to remove his Drug Store from his old stand.

Health of Bishop Green.—A paragraph was published last week, stating that this venerable and beloved prelate was very ill, and not expected to live; but a telegram from Cowan, Tenn., enclosed to us by his son from Chatawa, Miss., brings the gratifying intelligence that the Bishop is well, though slightly indisposed about a week ago.—Jackson Clarion.

Gov. Brownlow, of Tennessee, has issued a proclamation declaring the registration of voters in the counties of Benton, Coffin, Franklin, Humphrey, Hindman, Lincoln, Stewart and Wilson, null and void.

Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, has vetoed the bill for stationery to members of the Legislature, amounting to about $30,000, having been informed that the money was never expended for the purposes indicated, but paid direct to individual members.

A dying West India planter groaned out to his favorite negro servant: "Ah, Sambo, I'm going on a very long, long journey!" "Never mind, massa," said the negro, consolingly, "him all down hill."

Mrs. Saulsbury is said to have made a personal appeal to Senators not to press the resolution for the expulsion of her husband from the United States Senate.

The London Times says Great Britain is now ready to pay whatever a fair arbiter decides are the just claims of the sufferers by the Alabama captures.

An order has just been received by the publishers, from California, for five hundred copies of "Partisan Life with Mosby," by Major John Scott, of Virginia.

Bennett of the Herald is writing his own life. Several passages of it have been written on his own back. We wonder whether he will transcribe them.—Prentice.

Prussia will be supported by Bavaria and Baden in the event of a war with France.

A rural town in Maine has a ball, the proceeds of which are to buy a hearse.

What is fashion?—Dinner at midnight, and headache in the morning.

For the Sentinel.

ORANGE PRESBYTERY.

Messrs. Editors:—Having just returned from a visit to the session of the venerable Presbytery of Orange, it occurred to me that you might like to hear something with reference to it.

The body is composed of the ministers of the Presbyterian denomination, engaged in laboring in a belt of country stretching from the Sea Board to the Yadkin,—Fayetteville Presbytery occupying a corresponding Southern belt,—and is venerable not so much on account of the age of the members, as from its long usefulness as a pioneer Presbytery, and ancient record, reaching as far back as 1775.

The last session was held in the church of Stony Creek, situated near a mountain of the name in the Northern part of Alamance county. The church is pleasantly located, and though not an old building, yet has much to commend it as a country meeting house. An old arbor, long disused and almost ready to fall, given an ancient and venerable air to the church yard; and the graveyard, with its modest stones and quiet severity, has endeared the spot to many stricken households. The community is filled by plain and substantial people, without many of the graces and airs that commend them to the common gaze, but with a hearty hospitality and open-handed welcome, with true worth and sincerity far more desirable.

Rev. A. Currie, of Graham, was elected Moderator, and the business was transacted with prudence and dispatch. The next session, which will be the 195th., will be held at Chapel Hill. The familiar and beaming face of him, who would so heartily have welcomed the Presbytery to his own home, will not be seen, and was missed from its accustomed place at this meeting; for Dr. Phillips was always an influential member.

The weather, which at first was unfavorable, became most fair and lovely during the latter part of the session. The budding woods and green earth, with the melody of happy birds, were consonant with the quiet and solemn occasion. The preaching was very good, and attended to with interest by increasing congregations. On Sabbath the services were attended by a large concourse of people, many from neighboring congregations and churches, and some from a distance of fifteen or twenty miles. The building was packed—aisles, pulpit and standing room all occupied, the windows and doors crowded with listeners.

The scene on Sabbath, between the morning and afternoon services, in the grove surrounding the Church, was picturesque.—The different family groups gathered under the trees, partaking of amply-spread boards, the many wagons, (the most commonly used vehicles) carry-alls, buggies and carriages, with horses tied as outposts, all seemed like some great encampment. Some have estimated, perhaps too largely, the number as two thousand.

The crowd slowly dispersed, and that meeting of the Presbytery is numbered with the things that were. Those who attended will remember with great pleasure, the free and open hospitality of the good people of Stony Creek, their earnest desire to entertain, and their severe simplicity of manners and stern integrity. The people are earnestly endeavoring to recover from the losses of the war. The crops are encouraging, though backward, and, with the sturdy industry and worth that characterize them, there is reason to hope for the best.

A few hours ride brought me back, through a much poorer country, and with less prospect of abundant harvest. W. S. L.

He who pokes his nose everywhere, will sometimes poke it between a thumb and forefinger.

Wednesday Morning Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON—PROCEEDINGS IN THE SENATE.

Washington, April 16, P. M.

The Senate, to-day, adopted a resolution, postponing the adjournment till Thursday afternoon.

During the incidental debate, Mr. Chandler charged Mr. Fessenden with having said that the latter would confirm copperheads and rebels.

Mr. Fessenden repudiated this charge with all the scorn and contempt which he felt, and advised Mr. Chandler hereafter to stick to the truth.

Mr. Chandler reiterated the charge, and Mr. Fessenden again denied it and appealed to the record in support of his innocence in that respect.

Mr. Chandler said that he could not consult the record, for what Mr. Fessenden said took place in secret session.

Mr. Fessenden made a speech, holding that the Senate was bound to stay here till all the vacancies are filled, and mentioned the fact that, out of four or five hundred vacancies, only fifty remained unfilled. This fact showed the contrary to what had been asserted The President was doing all that he could to supply the vacancies.

Mr. Davis said that the President was entitled to praise, and insisted that he had the right to fill vacancies with his political friends.

Mr. Yates claimed that, as the Radicals had triumphed in the country, they had the right to all the offices.

Subsequently, in Executive session, the Senate rejected twelve Presidential nominations and confirmed only one.

THE SUPREME COURT—THE GEORGIA INJUNCTION CASE.

Hereof you are not to fail, at your peril.

Witness, the Hon. Salmon P. Chase, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States."

KNOW THY DESTINY.

Madame E. F. Thornton, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. GRAND CHARITABLE

PRESENTATION CONCERT,

IN AID OF THE Southern Orphan Association.

Incorporated by the Legislature of Virginia, January 30, 1867.

TO BE GIVEN AT THE

MARYLAND INSTITUTE

BALTIMORE,

APRIL 30th. 1867

THE PROFITS OF THIS CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN TO THE SOUTHERN ORPHANS' ASSOCIATION, TO THE SUBJOINED ADDRESS, FROM THE OFFICERS OF WHICH, WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC:

"We, the Officers of the Southern Orphans' Association, for the maintenance and education of the destitute orphans of deceased Southern soldiers and sailors, earnestly solicit the sympathy and co-operation in our

Grand Presentation Concert,

Of all who desire to see the

enabled to receive and care for all the needy ones who seek its shelter and protection.

Thanking our friends for their past contributions and assistance, we again appeal to them to help us in a more extensive enterprise. It is the design of this Association to erect a for the orphans of the South, both male and female, on an extensive scale, in the city of Richmond, Virginia. As an inducement to have the building located there, the Common Council of that city have guaranteed a sufficient lot of land, in an elevated and healthful location, and will increase the quantity of land if needed.

It is with a confident hope in a favorable response to this appeal to a public which has never yet failed to sustain a charitable institution, that we have entered into an arrangement with Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., No. 13 Holliday street, Baltimore, to organize a Grand Musical Presentation Concert for its benefit, and earnestly solicit the kindly aid and patronage of the public to ensure its success.

Mrs. THOS. BRANCH, Richmond, Va.

It may seem unnecessary to add a single word to the above address, but calls upon the Institution have been so numerous and pressing, and the struggle through which it is now passing to widen the circle of its charities is of such an arduous nature, that the management cannot too strongly urge upon the everywhere, an active participation in this additional attempt to alleviate the sad condition of great numbers of helpless children, rendered thus by the terrible war through which we have passed. And, assuredly, whatever may have been the relative political views of ladies and gentlemen heretofore, all must agree that the children referred to, could not, by any possibility, have had any agency in bringing about their present and are suitable objects for the charity of all persons of whatever shade of political opinion. The

DEPLORABLE AND DESTITUTE CONDITION,

"HOME AND SCHOOL"

which they now more particularly seek to establish and endow, will be of incalculable benefit by providing not only food and raiment for these helpless ones, but likewise solid and thorough education, thus qualifying them for Future Usefulness to Society at Large.

In order that this appeal may be effectual in enlisting the active interest and co-operation of all classes of persons everywhere, we have concluded to issue for the Grand Presentation Musical Concert,

500,000 tickets at the nominal price of $1 each—a single ticket entitling the purchaser to a gift—there being one gift to every ticket. The gifts are as follows:

THE SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1867.

CONTENTMENT.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

"Man wants but little here below."

Little I ask; my wants are few;
I only wish a hut of stone,
(A very plain brown stone will do,)
That I may call my own;—
And close at hand is such a one,
In yonder street that fronts the sun.

Plain food is quite enough for me;
Three courses are as good as ten;
If nature can subsist on three,
Thank Heaven for three. Amen!
I always thought cold victuals nice,
My choice would be vanilla-ice.

I care not much for gold or land;—
Give me a mortgage here and there,
Some good bank stock, some note of hand,
Or trifling railroad share,
I only ask that Fortune send
A little more than I shall spend.

Honors are silly toys, I know,
And titles are but empty names;
I would, perhaps, be Plenipo—
But only near St. James;
I'm very sure I should not care
To fill our Gubernator's chair.

Jewels are baubles; 'tis a sin
To care for such unfruitful things;
One good-sized diamond in a pin,
Some, not so large, in rings,
A ruby, and a pearl, or so,
Will do for me;—I laugh at show.

My dame should dress in cheap attire,
(Good, heavy silks are never dear;)
I own perhaps I might desire
Some shawls of true Cashmere
Some narrow crapes of China silk,
Like wrinkled skins on scalded milk.

Wealth's wasteful tricks I will not learn,
Nor ape the glittering upstart fool;
Shall not carved tables serve my turn,
But all must be of buhl?
Give grasping pomp its double care,
I ask but one recumbent chair.

Thus humble let me live and die,
Nor long for Midas' golden touch;
If Heaven more generous gifts deny,
I shall not miss them much,—
Too grateful for the blessing lent
Of simple tastes and mind content!

A STATE PRISON SCENE.

On Fast day the Governor of New Hampshire visited the State prison at Concord, and after viewing the building, requested the warden to bring a certain prisoner into the room. In a short time Mr. Mayo and the man entered and took their position in the middle of the company. The convict was, of course, astonished to find himself ushered into so large a gathering, in which were some twenty ladies, including the wife of his Excellency. The Governor rose, took the man by the hand, and spoke substantially as follows:

"My friend, about twelve months ago you were committed to this prison for five years for the alleged crime of passing counterfeit money. Soon after your incarceration circumstances came to light tending to prove that, although a counterfeit bill passed through your hands, it was used by you in an entirely innocent manner, and that you were unwittingly the dupe of a scoundrel, who fled the State and has never been arrested. I immediately ordered a full investigation of your case, and am thoroughly convinced that you are an innocent man, are serving out an unjust sentence. The constitution of the State gives me the power to open the door of this prison; and in the lawful exercise of that power I now grant you a full and free pardon. This very hour the warden will relieve you of a convict's uniform and give you a citizen's dress. You have been a good man within these walls; and while I and my friends here live we will everywhere bear testimony that your imprisonment leaves no stain upon your character. A dear wife and loving sister have prayed for your release, and I now restore you to their hands, to be once more their comfort and support."

As the Governor closed his remarks the poor man, overjoyed with happiness, trembled in every limb, and his face was wet with tears. Not a person in the audience looked unmoved upon the scene. All present congratulated the prisoner upon his just release, and wished him a happy and prosperous future.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 30, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof: that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

The Fall Session of this Institution opened 23rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages. This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States. Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.
